Abstract

Data governance is critical for any data-driven company, including those who are joining the AI wave. It is not easy to keep control of all internal and external data sources, but data governance processes and tools are making the task easier today. This session will go from the fundamentals of data governance to its relation to other relevant data & AI topics.

Structure:

- Data governance fundamentals (concept, motivation, main terms)
- Data governance tools overview
• Its relation with MLOps and data-centric approaches
• The influence of data governance on AI governance
